HUBBY TO COURT; WIFE SENT HOME

POLICE FIND COUPLE LIVING IN BOAT HOUSE— HEARING
FRIDAY MORN

John Taylor and his wife Ruth Taylor, were taken into custody yesterday afternoon by Sergeant John Gaffney when found loitering around one of the boat houses along the north bank of the river. Taylor was under the influence of liquor and he was locked up. Only about three weeks ago he had been picked up while in an intoxicated condition and fined.

According to the story told by Mrs. Taylor they came to Dixon several days ago from Nelson, where her husband had run a barber shop up to two or three weeks ago. They secured a room in a North Dixon rooming house and their funds having about run out they looked around for another place and were given quarters in a boat house at $1.50 a week. Neighbors in the locality had seen the couple going back and forth to the building and reported the matter to the police and they were taken to the station.

This morning Taylor was arraigned before Magistrate Kent to answer to the charge of vagrancy and he refused to plead guilty to the charge so the case has been set for hearing on Friday morning at 9 o'clock. No charge has been brought against Mrs. Taylor, but she will be kept to give testimony in the case and will then likely be sent on to Manlius, where her parents reside.

He pleaded guilty to the charge and a fine of $150 and costs was assessed amounting in all to $182.

The affray occurred on the Ernest Melvin farm about four miles south of Harmon. During the forenoon Patterson had tilts with different members in the crowd and at noon he had slipped the revolver in his pocket. During the afternoon he had a few words with Fred Clark and he pulled the gun on Clark. Last evening Clark swore out the warrant for the arrest.

PROTECTION.

MOBS IMPOSSIBLE; NO LIBERTY

(Associated Press)
Boston, Aug. 26—Former Governor Cole Blease of South Carolina in an address delivered here today before the Governors' Conference on "The Duty and Responsibility of the Chief Executives in Dealing with Prisoners" declared that the lynching of men in the south for certain crimes is a protection to civilization. He condemned the "third degree" in dealing with prisoners and expressed the opinion that it was worse in some respects than lynching.

"The money we spend for courts and prisons is very ill laid out," said Governor Blease. He continued in part: "We make, by distrust, the thief, the burglar, and incendiary and by our court and jail we keep him so. An acceptance of the sentiment of love throughout Christendom for a season would bring the felon and the outcast to our side in tears, with the devotion of his faculties to our service."

GERMAN-AMERICANS ARE NEAR TREASON SAYS ROOSEVELT

FORMER PRESIDENT MAKES A FIERY SPEECH AT CIVILIAN MILITARY CAMP.

CONDEMNS OUR GOVERNMENT

"Have Seen Our Own People Murdered Without Action On Our Part."

(Associated Press)

Plattsburgh, N. Y., Aug. 25—Theodore Roosevelt in an address to-night at the military instruction camp here, declared that for thirteen months the United States had "played an ignoble part among the nations," in that it had "tamely submitted to seeing the weak, whom we had covenanted to protect, wronged," and "had seen our own men, women and children murdered on the high seas without action on our part."

The former president condemned the government for having "not taken the smallest step in the way of preparedness to defend our own rights." Germany, he condemned as "utterly brutal and ruthless in its disregard of international morality" and declared that it "would be base abandonment of morality" for American manufacturers of munitions of war to refuse to make shipments "for the use of the armies that are striving to restore Belgium to its own people."

MAKE FIRST ARREST IN MURDER MYSTERY

GEO. SCHNEIDER HELD IN MURDER OF REV. KAYSER AT GARY, IND.

TO EXPLAIN CUTS ON HIS FACE

(Associated Press)

Gary, Ind., Aug. 26—The arrest of George Schneider, a member of the Saxon Verien of Gary, is expected to throw some light on the murder of Rev. Edmund Kayser, pastor of St. John's German Evangelical church, whose body was found in the yard at the parsonage at Tolleston yesterday morning.

Cuts On Face.

Schneider and Kayser opposed each other strongly in some plans of the Verien, and the arrested man has several cuts on his face which he will be asked to explain.

According to a statement of the police this afternoon a woman and three or four men plotted the murder of Rev. Kayser. The woman is known, they say, but she has disappeared.

Was Threatened in Letters. While police and detectives were trying to fathom the immediate circumstances of the murder federal authorities hastened the investigation of threatening letters which had been written to Kayser and turned over to the officers by him. These letters are thought to have been inspired by his pro-German utterances, which included frequent editorial contributions to Gary papers, and the constant willingness to argue merits of the European war, which have kept Kayser

INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN TO SETTLE PROBLEM OF SUB- SEA BOATS' OPERATIONS

ASSOCIATED PRESS IS TOLD BY GERMAN CHANCELLOR THAT COMMANDERS OF SUBMERSIBLES HAD RECEIVED INSTRUCTIONS DESIGNED TO PREVENT REPETITION OF LUSITANIA CASE AND TO PROVIDE OPPORTUNITY FOR AMERICANS AND NON-COMBATANTS ON TORPEDOED SHIPS TO ESCAPE FROM VESSEL— DESIRE FRIENDLY RELATIONS TO CONTINUE.

SAYS ARABIC INCIDENT IS ELIMINATED

GERMAN GOVERNMENT CONSIDERS IT CAN BE TROWN OUT AS A SOURCE OF DISCORD BETWEEN THE GOVERNMENTS—WILL OFFER FULL REPARATION IF DETAILS SHOW THAT SUBMARINE COMMANDER ACTED CONTRARY TO INSTRUCTIONS OF HIS GOVERNMENT—CHANCELLOR BETHMANN-HOLLWEG TELLS ASSOCIATED PRESS OF CONDITIONS.

(Associated Press)

Berlin, Aug. 26—The Associated Press is in a position to state on the very best authority that the Arabic incident may be considered as eliminated as a source of discord between Germany and the United States; or at least it is regarded by the German government in that light.

HAD ADOPTED NEW POLICY.

Moreover, Germany, in her desire to continue on friendly relations with the United States, had adopted before the sinking of the Arabic a policy designed to settle completely the whole submarine problem as affecting America, on a basis of good will and mutual understanding.

CHANCELLOR'S STATEMENT.

This is clearly shown by the statement of Chancellor Bethmann-Hollweg last night to the Associated Press, and particularly in his closing remark, to the effect that not until all of the circumstances in connection with the Arabic had been cleared up would it be possible to say "whether the commander of one of the submarines went beyond his instructions," in which case he said Germany would give complete satisfaction to the United States.

ISSUED INSTRUCTIONS.

Submarine commanders had received instructions designed to prevent a repetition of the Lusitania case and to provide an opportunity for the escape of Americans and non-combatants upon torpedoed ships.

DID NOT GIVE DETAILS.

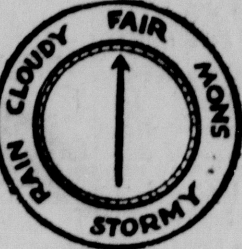

The chancellor did not specify in detail the nature of the instructions. Having given these instructions, Germany asked a suspension of judgment in the Arabic case until the facts are ascertained, being confident that it will be shown that the sinking of the vessel was not an unprovoked attack, without warning by the submarine, but attributable either to the explosion of a mine or to some action of the vessel itself.

TO OFFER REPARATION.

Should it develop, however, that the submarine acted contrary to instructions, ample reparation will be offered.

Bernstorff Sees Lansing.
Washington, Aug. 26—Count von Bernstorff, German ambassador to the United States, conferred with Secretary of State Lansing today for an hour, and it is understood that he reiterated that it was not the intention of Germany that any American should have been lost on the Arabic.

Official Expectations.
It is confidently expected here that the next word from Germany will be an announcement that pending further negotiations submarine warfare on passenger ships will be discontinued and that the commanders of submarines have been instructed to sink no merchantmen without warning.

Diplomatic Exchanges.
It seems certain that there will be diplomatic exchanges in the Arabic case.

The ceremony was performed by Father M. C. Krug, the double ring service being used. The members of St. Mary's choir sang the mass, and Mrs. Eddie Henry and Christian Henkel sang the duet, "O, Promise Me."

The bride was charmingly gowned in a dress of white crepe de meteor trimmed with lace, and wore a bridal veil and white satin slippers. She carried a large bouquet of Madonna lilies. The bridesmaid wore a dress of lace over pink silk, and wore a large white hat trimmed with pink Japanese lilies. Four of the bridesmaids were gowned in pink or gandy, trimmed with white rosebuds, while the other four wore white or gandy gowns trimmed with pink rosebuds.

Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party went to the home of the bride's parents where a sumptuous four course wedding breakfast was served to the immediate friends and relatives.

REMARKABLE ARCHERY.

Skilled Archers Could Kill a Man at 500 Yards.

In the days when the buffalo was found in vast herds on the western plains there were Indians who, while riding at a gallop, could send an arrow through a buffalo's body. Remarkable as this archery was, it did not equal that reached by the archers of ancient times. It is of record that the McRaes of Gairlock, Scotland, were such skilled archers that they could hit a man at the distance of 500 yards. In 1794 the Turkish ambassador at London shot an arrow in a field near that capital 415 yards against the wind.

The secretary of the ambassador, on hearing the expressions of surprise from the English gentlemen present, said the sultan had shot 500 yards. This was the greatest performance of modern days, but a pillar standing on a plain near Constantinople recorded shots ranging up to 800 yards. Sir Robert Ainslie, British ambassador to the sublime ports, records that in 1798 he was present when the sultan shot an arrow 972 yards.

PORPOISE JAW OIL GOOD.

Made for Lubricating Watches and Other Things.

Practically all the porpoise oil used in this country, even if not in the world, for lubricating watches and other delicate instruments, is made near New Bedford, Mass., which many years ago was important as a whaling port. The product is taken from the jaw, and certain other parts, of the animal, which is caught especially for this purpose.

When the industry was in its infancy whalers were depended upon to supply the porpoise, but now the manufacturers maintain a fishing department which follows the schools of porpoise migrating along the coast, and furnishes a continual supply of them.

The history of the New Bedford industry reaches back to the early part of the nineteenth century, to a watch tinker who regulated and cleaned the timepieces and chronometers of the skippers of the whalers.—Popular Mechanics.

FISHES CARRY LIGHTS.

Certain Water Denizens Provide Lanterns of Their Own.

Certainly among the most remarkable of fishes are those which are provided with lanterns of their own and which swim around the dark recesses of the bottom of the deep ocean where no ray of natural light above can penetrate. A model of one of these fish, notable for the phosphorescent organs, is on exhibition in the United States National museum.

The sides of the fish are regularly dotted with luminous spots, while, in addition, there is a large luminous area, like a lantern, on the top of the head. This extraordinary creature must present a singular appearance when swimming in the dark abysses of the ocean. In the model the luminous spots on the sides are represented by buttons of glass, connected with the interior by tubes.—The Bits.

COMPACT GAS ENGINE.

Motor Developed Which Weighs Only Forty Pounds.

Designed to be used in a canoe, a 2 1/2 horse power gasoline motor has been developed which weighs only forty pounds and is able to give one of the small craft a speed of approximately twelve miles an hour.

The engine is assembled in a fairly compact manner and carries at the back a fuel tank of one gallon capacity. It is intended to be mounted in the bottom of a canoe on two short pieces of plank fastened securely to the ribs of about four and one-half feet from the stem.—Popular Mechanics.

For testing X-ray apparatus skeleton hands, made of paper and being about as apaque as real hands, have been invented.

LAW IN GERMANY AND ON THE HIGH SEAS.

Law reigns in Germany today by consent of Prussians, Bavarians, Saxons and people of other races who are naturalized German citizens, says the Aurora Beacon-News.

If a citizen of the United States in Germany today should break one of those laws he would be slapped in jail and rightly, too, and he could protest until he was black in the face for all the good it would do him.

Law reigns on the high seas of the world (or did until a year ago) by consent of Germans, Britons, Frenchmen, Russians, United States citizens and all other nations affected.

If a submarine of the United States had sunk a ship lawfully carrying German citizens, the commander and his men would have been slapped in jail and rightly, too, provided, of course, they could have been captured by the German government. If the German government could not have caught them, the United States would have been compelled to apologize and pay the damages or go to war.

The law of the high seas provides that during war between countries a ship may be stopped and searched. If certain kinds of goods, called "contraband," are found on the ship, said ship may be seized as a prize and towed into port.

When a German submarine fires a shell into any vessel without first warning it to stop, it breaks the law of the high seas.

Law is law, whether it be within the limits of Germany or on the high seas.

That is why the United States accepts the kaiser's regrets and sympathies but insists that he shall stop the reign of German submarine terror on the high seas so far as American citizens are concerned.

The supposed American citizen arrested today in Germany for breaking the law might declare that there was a higher law than the one under which the Germans live. That would not keep him out of a German jail.

Why, then, should the kaiser declare his government subject to a higher law than that framed for all nations and expect to get by with it?

All patriotic Americans, without reference to race, color, "previous condition of servitude" unite in declaring that there is a law of the high seas and that that law must be observed by kaiser as well as by king or president.

The kaiser's sorrow and tenderest sympathies will be received with better grace by the American people when he tells them and supports it with proof that no German submarine sunk the Arabic and issues the order to fire upon no vessel contrary to international law.

GUN PLANTS IN THE SOUTH.

An effort is being made by the Chamber of Commerce of Birmingham to secure the building in that city of a plant for the manufacture of rifles and other small arms. In this respect Birmingham is not moving any too quickly. A plant of this kind should be built somewhere in the central south. The United States government should establish a great plant of this character for its own protection. At the same time it behooves the capitalists and industrial leaders of the country to co-operate in establishing one or more gun-making plants in the south.

The entire war munition business is centered within a radius of 200 miles of New York. That is unwise from every point of view. National safety demands the building of a plant or plants far removed from the influences that are now so dominant in this limited area.

It is easily conceivable that if under a stress of war some central point of this eastern country could be occupied by an invading army, it would be possible practically to conquer the country without much difficulty through the inability of the nation to produce war supplies at more distant points. This fact should receive the careful consideration of the national government, of men who control large gun, iron and steel making works, such as the Bethlehem company, the Remingtons, the Winchester and others whose interests are now staked to too large an extent for their own good and the safety of the country upon a limited area in the east.

ANY STATE CAN FURNISH THIS.

A summer camp might be formed in each state where men who can afford a month's vacation could take a course in military instruction. To say nothing of the step toward government preparedness, it would be more profitable to themselves than aimless, idle trips, for the outing and training would benefit them physically. But for those who can not give a month to soldiering and would like the training, some other provision must be made. —Indianapolis Star.

NEW SIZE LIMIT IS EFFECTIVE NEXT WEEKPARCELS POST REGULATIONS WILL BE CHANGED WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 1.

Merchants are awaiting with interest the coming of the first day of September, on which day the new parcel post regulations go into effect, unless the postmaster general sees fit to recall his orders.

The new regulations will permit the sending of parcel post packages of much larger size than is now allowed. Also a receipt will be issued to the one sending the package, the same as is done by the express companies.

The present limit of size for parcel post packages is seventy-two inches. The new regulations will permit the sending of packages measuring 84 inches.

Postmaster Burrleson issued the new orders about six weeks ago, ordering that they go into effect on September 1, 1915. The sixty or more days between the issuance of the order and the time set for it to go into effect were given so that any persons wishing to remonstrate with the proposed new change would have ample time to do so.

Up to date the local postoffice authorities have not reported the receipt of any word from Washington that would signify the recalling of the orders, so for that reason it may be expected that the new rule will go into effect on the date set, September 1, 1915.

Ernestina Stephens of Ashton desires to have the bonds of matrimony severed between herself and husband, Henry Stephens, basing her request on statutory grounds. She states that they were married November 15th, 1885.

The married life of Bertha Rogers of this city has not been a path of roses, according to her petition and she asks that a decree be granted her from her husband, Charles Rogers. According to her petition they were united in marriage March 17, 1911, and she bases her charge on excessive use of intoxicating liquors. She further asks the court to permit her to resume her maiden name of Bertha Riley.

HORSESHOE IN GRAIN CAUSED ACCIDENTINQUEST INTO IRMA HECKMAN'S DEATH BROUGHT OUT SENSATION.

It developed at the coroner's inquest into the death of Irma Heckman, which was completed at Amboy late Wednesday afternoon, that the bursting of the fan, a piece of which struck the little girl, injuring her fatally, was caused by a horseshoe that had evidently been placed in the shocks of grain. It was also learned that during the day three other horseshoes and a pulley had been found in the grain, and it is believed they were placed there by someone who had a grudge against Geo. Killmer, the owner of the threshing outfit. Legal action may follow.

FIRST AUTOMATIC SIGNAL IS PLACED

NORTHWESTERN WILL GIVE NEW DANGER WARNING THOROUGH TRIAL

The first automatic signal for the Galena division of the C. & N. W. railroad was installed Tuesday by Robert Sheets, who is in charge of the Hall Signal system of the Northwestern.

The new signal is over the tracks at Agnew, and acts in place of a flagman, it being called an electric flagman.

The approach of a train from either direction sets a red flag waving during daylight and at night it waves a red lantern. The automatic signal man is working very successfully on the Wisconsin division of the Northwestern and there is every reason to believe that it will be ideal for crossings here, especially at places where no protection than mere crossing danger signs are to be found. It will be given a thorough trial, and if it works satisfactorily at Agnew, it will be installed in other parts of the division.

SCOVILL STARTS BIG DAMAGE SUIT

ASKS $5,000 FROM HIGHWAY COMMISSIONER OF MT. PLEASANT

AUTO WENT THROUGH BRIDGE

Prof. A. T. Scovill has through his attorney, R. W. Besse, started a personal damage suit against Albert C. Lang, road commissioner of Mt. Pleasant township, for trespass on the case, asking the sum of five thousand dollars for personal damages. Summons have been issued and have been served on Mr. Lang.

It will be remembered that about two weeks ago, Prof. Scovill, his two boys, and Rev. W. L. Collin, pastor of the Fourth street M. E. church of this city, went down a ten foot precipice south of Morrison two and one half miles, late in the evening.

The bridge had been washed out by the swollen creek, and the water was three feet deep at the bottom at the time of the accident. The bottom also contained the broken concrete stones which had fallen in from the washout. Mr. Scovill states that there were no lights of warning on either side of the bridge, and that the only protection against running into the creek, was a small iron rail or two, put up on a pair of two-by-sixes, and this was within six feet of the precipice.

The two men came near being killed, Mr. Collin being yet in a precarious condition and is not yet out of danger, although he seems to be gaining, but a very little set back would almost be fatal to him in his weakened condition from another accident of last spring.

PREFERS LYNCHING TO THIRD DEGREE

had made an attempt upon the life of another being plied with questions until he was too weak to talk, then being walked up and down the corridors of his prison to revive him, then plied with questions again, and subjected to God alone knows what else, in the administration of the 'third degree.' Later this prisoner was found on the floor of his cell with his skull crushed in, and it was stated that he had climbed to the top of his cell door and jumped to the floor, killing himself. Whether he was murdered or whether he really committed suicide I do not know; but this I do know, that the suicide of any man would hardly be unnatural under such circumstances, and that the treatment accorded him before conviction would have been a disgrace to our civilization even had it occurred after he had been tried and sentenced.

"This 'third degree' method that is practiced in the north and east and the west less frequently, I am glad to say, in the south—whether a man be killed during its administration, or whether he be driven to commit suicide, or whether he be tortured sometimes into confessing crimes of which he may be innocent, is barbarity in a sneaking form, under the sanction of law, and those guilty of practicing it evidence a spirit as mean and contemptible as the malice which animates the midnight assassin.

"Three years ago I had the pleasure of addressing this conference in Richmond. My remarks were telegraphed throughout the nation, and I was heralded throughout the world as a chief executive who advocated mob violence. I do not propose to go into a discussion of that here; it is entirely beside the question. Suffice it for me to say that in the south the lynching of a man for the unmentionable crime is a protection to our civilization, while the practice of this 'third degree' violates the letter of our constitution at its most vital point and is a blow to the whole spirit of our institutions. In the south an aroused mob is an outraged community which carries out the law, but brushing aside with mighty force the law's technicalities and delays. There is no hypocritical, sanctimonious violation of fundamental rights under the cloak of law by those sworn to uphold the law; the deed is open, and civilization and justice are vindicated. And when mobs are no longer possible, liberty will be dead."

more or less before public attention since the outbreak of the war.

Postmaster H. B. Snyder of Gary declared in an interview that Mr. Kayser submitted to him several letters which he had received. "He was frank in his dealings with me regarding the threatening letters," declared the postmaster, "and government inspectors have been working for four months on the letters."

It became generally known only after the news of the pastor's murder spread, that Kayser had been attacked six months ago by an Englishman, a stranger.

Woman Also in Case.

The identity of a woman mentioned in anonymous threats against his life has become known. She is Mrs. Mary Krause, one of his parishioners, a wife and mother.

Kayser had been charged in anonymous letters now in the possession of federal inspectors with unseemly behavior toward Mrs. Krause and had been warned that death would follow if he did not end his allured relations with her. Mrs. Krause had demanded of the postmaster that there be a public investigation of the charge. Kayser had received other anonymous letters threatening assassination "on moral grounds." He had sent his wife and children to the home of Mrs. Kayser's father, the Rev. A. Koch of Grand Haven, Mich., and added his demand for an investigation. Information was given to Chief of Police Helnitz of Gary that Kayser was "lynched" for private reasons touching on his moral conduct by members of his own congregation. A woman's footprint was among those found outside his window.

Besides Mrs. Krause, another woman and a man are under police surveillance.

Thinks Pastor Tortured.

Coroner F. W. Smith of Lake county has a definite clue in the murder of the Rev. Edmund Kayser at Gary, Ind.

"There is no doubt that the assassins intended to torture their victim before they killed him," said Coroner Smith, "for he was bound with a piece of rope—a new clothes line—and it is the only clue we have so far. It is possible that an attempt to lynch him may have been made, but I do not lean much to that theory."

"There is no question in my mind that the strong statements made by this man and the strong stand he took with regard to the war in Europe is responsible for his death. He was too outspoken for an American, and I have heard him calling the president names."

MINING ROCK PHOSPHATE

By John Ruhm, Mount Pleasant, Tennessee.

What is known as the Mount Pleasant Phosphate Field, in Tennessee, the regular mining of phosphate rock was begun in 1898. The most convenient properties for handling, and the best deposits, were those near the town of Mount Pleasant, the main shipping point in Tennessee, and as a result, while virgin deposits remain, large areas, especially along the main line of the railroad, have been "mined over."

Limestone Affected Strata.
As the phosphate deposits on these properties originally existed, they were in well-defined strata, covered only with clay and top soil, known as lowing the mud and sand to run off into "sand" or "mud ponds."

The mining was done by negroes, who were paid so much a load, and frequently where the overburden was deep, and more especially when the deposit would lie in irregular limestone bottoms, they would only get the top lump, running over the deeper deposits, and cutters, where the highest grade rock and heavy deposits of much finer quality.

In this shape, the first mined portions were left and abandoned as "worked out."

Experimental washing in small quantities developed the fact that the sand and smaller particles when prop-

U. S. SECRET SERVICE ARRESTS GERMAN SPY

Gustave Klopsch Is Taken with Coast Defense Drawings.

Washington, Aug. 26.—Secret service agents of the department of justice have arrested Gustave Klopsch, an employee of the Carnegie institute here, charged with being a German spy.

Klopsch when arrested had in his possession a suit case filled with photographs and drawings of coast defense fortifications along the Atlantic coast. He had also a number of topographical drawings of land adjacent to the fortifications. It was clear that he had obtained possession of many important secrets relating to the coast defense of the United States.

Klopsch was born in Dresden, Germany. He has been in this country four years, he told agents of the department of justice, and has taken out his citizenship papers, although he had not completed his naturalization.

The German was sullen when taken into custody and refused to make any explanation. He said he had been trying to get the location of every Marconi station on the Atlantic coast. Permission had been given to him to make the photos and drawings of Fort Monroe, the only fortification protecting the entrance to Hampton Roads, Va., by a drunken sentry at the fort, he said.

GERMANY MUST GIVE UP SUPREMACY IDEA

Sir Edward Grey Says Teutons Could Have Averted War.

London, Aug. 26.—The positive assertion that Great Britain is determined to continue to fight until Germany abandons her ambition of supremacy was made in a statement issued by Sir Edward Grey, in reply to the speech last week of Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the German imperial chancellor, in the reichstag.

Sir Edward Grey's statement is a complete refutation of all the German charges with regard to the alleged plan by Britain to violate Belgium. The British foreign minister states specifically that Germany wanted the war and caused it by refusing the proposal of a conference which would have settled the Serbian problem.

"Is there one candid soul in Germany or in Austria-Hungary," asks the British statesman, "who, looking back upon the past year, does not regret that the proposal for that conference was not accepted."

DIFFICULT TO FIND ZEPPELIN PILOTS

THAT IS GERMANY'S GREATEST TROUBLE—COMPLETE MONSTER AIRSHIP

(Associated Press)

Geneva, Switzerland, Aug. 25.—The latest Zeppelin airship constructed at Friedrichshafen differs from its predecessors, according to details from Romashorn on the Swiss side of Lake Constance, in only one important feature and two minor changes.

A small platform has been provided on the top of the balloon for a cannon to protect the ship from aeroplanes and the speed has been increased by an additional propeller and motor. Owing to this extra weight, however, the carrying power of the Zeppelin is diminished.

The new airship is of a slate color. The total cost of this latest air ship is $500,000, double the cost of the first Zeppelins produced. It is reported from Germany that the greatest difficulty in the use of Zeppelins is the lack of capable pilots, most of the best men having been killed or made prisoner.

JOHN BULL WORLDS BIGGEST ADVERTISER

BRITISH GOVERNMENT HAS EXPENDED MILLIONS IN PRINT-ER'S INK.

FOR ARMY, MONEY, ECONOMY

Kitchener's Army Was Result of the Ads—Public Advised to Eat Vegetables.

London, Aug. 25.—Correspondence of Associated Press—How many million dollars the British Government has spent in advertising during the first year of the war no expert accountant has yet had the facilities to estimate. It is a safe statement to make, however, that no nation ever spent one-tenth as much on printers' ink in the same period.

Kitchener's army has been raised chiefly by advertising. Full page, half page and smaller advertisements in the papers are almost daily occurrences. The billboards have been covered with the greatest variety of posters any advertiser ever had painted. A collection of these would reveal every play of ingenious appeal advertising experts are capable of inventing. The signs on trams, busses and private motor cars increase rather than decrease as the war continues. There are appeals for recruits in prose and verse, in cartoon and suggestive picturing, all dressed as attractively as colored inks and trained advertising men can make them.

The recent war loan, the largest in the history of governmental borrowings, was the occasion of another big advertising campaign. Even the big advertisers who have contracts for the outside pages of dailies were pushed into the inside so John Bull could ask Britons to pour their savings into the nation's till. If the public had not become accustomed to Great Britain as a big advertiser because of the proportions of the army recruiting crusade, the dimensions of this campaign of advertising for money would have seemed startling, for in itself it was without precedent before the war.

Now there are signs of a third big advertising movement by Great Britain in its thrift campaign. Already posters are urging people to eat less meat, to eat more vegetables, to insist that each loaf of bread weighs two pounds, to report any dealer trying to sell a smaller loaf and giving similar advice as to housekeeping. This third campaign hitherto regarded as conservative and not given to sensational methods, has not reached the proportions of the other two—the campaign for recruits and that for money—but it is in embryo still.

All the patent medicine and breakfast food advertisers in the U. S. must take a back seat compared to the British empire now when the dimensions, cost or character of display advertising is in question. John Bull has become the greatest advertiser on earth.

AMBOY

Amboy, Aug. 25.—The friends of Henry Kellenbach in this city will be grieved to hear of his untimely death in British Columbia. The young man in company with a friend was fishing in the river. Standing in a boat, Henry possibly over-balanced it, and was drowned, as his friend was on shore at the time and some distance from him. No one can tell of the accident, as his hat in the boat, was the only clue to his death. His body has not been recovered to date, and possibly never will be, as this accident occurred in June. The Kellenbach family moved from this city to Goldfield, Ia., several years ago, the son then traveled to British Columbia.

SCHOFIELD HOTEL AND COTTAGES

This popular resort is almost as well known as the Dells. It has been entertaining summer guests for forty years, and has lately been enlarged in capacity by the erection of a large modern building, fully equipped with every modern convenience, and affording dining room, assembly parlors, etc. This is an addition to the popular cottage plan, and adds to the previous popular attractions of the older system. The hotel and cottages are in extensive grounds, delightfully shaded by large oaks, and being away from the river is most especially desirable for families with children. The location is in the edge of Kilbourn on a pretty resident street, but a pleasant walk from the river and depot, and with regular free bus and carriage service to these points. The large hotel is not surpassed in this locality in point of modern style and comfort. The annex cottages and grounds make it altogether everything that anybody would desire. The test of efficiency is in the table. This hotel is especially noted for its excellent table board. Fresh butter, eggs, vegetables and fruit are supplied daily from the farm, and its preparation by a professional chef is perfect; chicken dinners twice a week.

Rates: $2 per day, $12 per week, half rates for children; rates made to family for week or longer. Rooms with bath must be applied for in advance. Free use of garage.

THE heavy draft horse is doomed. He will not vanish suddenly, but his hour has struck. Motor trucks already are displacing him in cities. The cheap farm tractor will do the same in the country. In a few decades the great, magnificent brutes will be little more than a memory. BRITISH GAIN AT GALLIOLI

Desperate Attacks at Bosphorus by Russ, Dardanelles by British and French and by Air on Constantinople by Russian Airmen—Fleet Attacks Forts.

London, Aug. 26.—Land, sea, air and submarine attacks against the Turks in a great concerted effort by the British, French and Russians to force the Dardanelles, take Constantinople and gain the support of the wavering Balkan states are reported.

A Russian aeroplane squadron bombarded Constantinople on Monday, according to semi-official reports, killing or wounding forty-one persons, of whom eight were Greeks and three Armenians.

Co-operating with the allied fleet shelling the Dardanelles forts, a Russian battle squadron has appeared off the Bosphorus, driving the Turkish warships to the protection of its forts, which are now being bombarded by the Russian vessels.

British Take Trenches.

Operating in the northern zone of Gallipoli, British troops have captured 800 yards of Turkish trenches, according to an official admiralty report issued in Paris, registering one of the largest single gains yet reported.

The trenches were stormed by Australian troops landed recently in a surprise attack at Suvla bay.

Meanwhile the British in the region of Krithia and Av-Burnu have commenced strong operations on a large scale, and are reported to be making satisfactory progress, while at the same time the French, by a brilliant infantry action, have captured a Turkish observation post at the southern end of the peninsula, and have established themselves in a position of strategic importance.

Warships Busy.

While the soldiers have been battling their way forward through the rugged peninsula of Gallipoli, fighting day and night in the fierce heat, the warships of the Anglo-French have not been idle.

French warships have shelled Acha Shillman, on the European side of the Dardanelles, causing heavy damage to the Turkish defenses, according to the French admiralty statement, while two other allied vessels, darting into the mine infested waters of the narrows, have bombarded the batteries at Kastania.

A British submarine, according to Mitylene advices, has torpedoed and sunk four Turkish transports en route to Gallipoli with a large number of troops.

A French aviator has bombarded another Turkish transport, at anchor in Nagara roads, causing, it is reported, heavy loss of life on board.

OUTER FORTS TAKEN

OF RUSS STRONGHOLD

Advanced Position of Brest Litovsk Fortress Broken.

Berlin, Aug. 26.—General Mackensen has broken through the advanced positions of Brest Litovsk fortress at Dobzynka.

One wing of Mackensen's army is approaching the western bank of the Mesna. North of Brest Litovsk the Bavarians are continuing the movement to envelop the fortress and, after throwing the Russians back into the forest of Bielowiezka, have reached Wierschowice.

In the north the armies under Generals Von Hindenburg, Von Gallwitz and Von Schlotz are hurling the Slavs back upon a line extending southward from Vilna.

Delayed only by Russian rear guard action, the army of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg is closing in upon Vilna. The Slavs are again in retreat after futile attempts to block the German advance by heavy counter attacks. The capture of Vilna, commanding another section of the Warsaw-Petrograd railway, is expected within a few days.

Both Kovno and Kovel, the extreme ends of the Russian defensive line of which Brest Litovsk was the center are now in the hands of the Austro-Germans. Grodno and Bialystok will be surrendered to Von Hindenburg before many days, it is believed here, and the Russians will make their final stand behind the forts of Brest Litovsk itself.

QUESTION CLEARED UP

DIXON READERS CAN NO LONGER DOUBT THE EVIDENCE

Again and again we have read of strangers in distant towns who have been cured by this or that medicine. But Dixon's pertinent question has always been "Has any one here in Dixon been cured?" The word of a stranger living a hundred miles away may be true, but it cannot have the same weight with us as the word of our own citizens, whom we know and respect, and whose evidence we can so easily prove.

F. K. Cnare, tailor, 1204 First St., Dixon, says: "I had a dull ache in the small of my back, right across my kidneys. I had heard Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended, so I got some at Leake Bros. Co.'s Drug Store. They removed the pains in my back and I have had no trouble since."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Cnare had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

GERMAN-AMERICANS ARE NEAR TREASON

Munition makers who refused to make such shipments should be put, he said, "on a roll of dishonor." He added that they should be encouraged "so that we may be able to hold our own when the hour of peril comes to us in our turn."

His speech follows in part:

Must Do Own Fighting.

"Free citizens should be allowed to do their own fighting. The professional pacifist is as much out of place in a democracy as is the poltroon him self; and he is no better citizen than the poltroon. Probably no body of citizens in the United States during the last five years, have wrought so efficiently for national decadence and international degradation, as the professional pacifists, the peace-at-any-price men, who have tried to teach our people that silly all-inclusive arbitration treaties and the utterance of fatuous platitudes at peace congresses are substitutes for adequate military preparedness.

"Under the conditions of modern warfare it is the wildest nonsense to talk of men springing to arms in mass unless they have been taught how to act in mass and how to use the arms to which they spring. For thirteen months America has played an ignoble part among the nations. We have tamely submitted to seeing the weak, whom we had covenanted to protect, wronged. We have seen our own men, women and children murdered on the high seas without action on our part. We have treated eloquence as a substitute for action. During this time our government has not taken the smallest step in the way of preparedness to defend our own rights. Yet these thirteen months have made evident the lamentable fact that force is more dominant now in the affairs of the world than ever before; that the most powerful of modern military nations is utterly brutal and ruthless in its disregard of international morality, and that rightness divorced from force is utterly futile. Reliance upon high-sounding words unbacked by deeds is proof of a mind that dwells only in the realm of shadow and of sham.

Pay For Privilege.

"The government has not paid a dollar for this camp. Inasmuch as we as a nation have done nothing whatever for our defense during the past thirteen months, the time when during all our history it was most necessary to prepare for self-defense, it is well that private individuals should have cried, however insufficiently, to provide some kind of substitute for proper governmental action. The army officers and enlisted men have put all good Americans under a fresh debt by what they have done in connection with this camp; and we owe much to the private citizens who have advanced the money without which the camp could not have been held. But you men have had to buy your own uniforms; you have had to spend money in fifty different ways; in other words, you have had to pay for the privilege of learning how to serve your country.

Others Would Like To.

"This means that for every one man like yourselves who can afford to come here there are a hundred equally good American citizens, equal ly patriotic, who would like to come and are unable to. It is undemocratic that the young farmer, that the young hired man on a farm, that the hard working clerk or mechanic or day laborer, all of whom wish to serve the country as much as you do and are as much entitled to the benefit of this camp as you are, should be unable to attend such a camp. They cannot attend it unless the nation does as Switzerland has done and gives the opportunity for every generous and right-thinking American to learn by six months actual service in one year or two years how to do his duty to the country if the need arises—and the Americans who are not right-thinking should be made to serve anyhow, for a democracy has full right to the service of its citizens.

Should Be Obligatory.

"Camps like this are schools of civic virtue, as well as of military efficiency. They should be universal and obligatory for all our young men. Every man worth his salt will wish to come to them. As for the professional pacifists and the poltroons and college sissies who organize peace-at-any-price societies, and the mere money-getters and mere money-spenders, they should be made to understand that they have got to render whatever service the country demands. They must be made to submit to training in doing their duty. Then if, in the event of war, they prove unfit to fight, at any rate they can be made to dig trenches and kitchen sinks, or do whatever else a debauch of indulgence in professional pacifism has left them fit to do. * * * *"

"Camps like this are the best possible antidotes to hyphenated Americans. * * * 6 The events of the past year have shown us that in any crisis the hyphenated American is an active force against America, an active force for wrongdoing. The effort to hoist two flags on the same flagpole always means that one flag is hoisted underneath; and the hyphenated American invariably hoists the flag of the United States underneath. We must all be Americans and nothing else. * * *

"There exists no finer body of American citizens in this country than those citizens of German birth or descent who are in good faith Americans and nothing else. * * * The professional German-American has shown himself, within the last twelve months to be an enemy to this country as well as to humanity. The recent exposures of the way in which these German-Americans have worked together with the emissaries of the German government—often by direct corruption—against the integrity of American institutions and against America doing its international duty, should arouse scornful indignation in every American worth calling such. The leaders among the professional German-Americans have preached and practiced what comes perilously near to treason against the United States.

"Under The Hague Convention it was our bounden duty to take whatever action was necessary to prevent and, if not to prevent, then to undo, the hideous wrong that was done to Belgium. We have shirked this duty. We have shown a spirit to object, that Germany has deemed it safe to kill our women and children on the high seas. As for the export of munitions of war, it would be a base abandonment of morality to refuse to make these shipments. Such a refusal is proposed only to favor the nation that sank the Lusitania and the Arabic and committed the crime against Belgium, the greatest international crime committed since the close of the Napoleonic contests a century ago. It is not a lofty thing; on the contrary, it is an evil wrong. It is wrong for an individual. It is still more wrong for a nation. But it is worse in the name of neutrality, to favor the nation that has done evil. * * * Exactly the same morality should obtain that obtains nationally. It is right for a private firm to furnish arms to the policeman who puts down the thug, the burglar, the white slaver and the black hander. It is wrong to furnish the black hander, the burglar and the white-slaver with weapons to be used against the police man. The analogy holds true in international life. Germany has herself been the greatest manufacturer of munitions of war to be supplied to belligerents. * * * Let us furnish munitions to the men who, showing courage we have not shown, wish to rescue Belgium from subjection and apollation and degradation. And let us encourage munition makers so that we may be able to hold our own when the hour of peril comes to us in our turn, as assuredly it will come if we show ourselves too 'neutral' to speak a word on behalf of the weak who are wronged, and too slothful and lazy to prepare to defend ourselves against great military nations that we are too proud to fight, that we are not unprepared to undertake defensive war for our own vital interest and national honor."
